SLAUGHTER OF INNOCENTS IN HANKOW

PEACE AND QUIET IN NANKING

Chinese Continue To Fight Stubbornly

Peace and quiet prevailed in Nanking to-day, the Japanese air force not being nearly as active as they have been during the past few days. An indication that the Japanese are preparing for the next big push is foreshadowed by the arrival of more Japanese sailors and supplies at Yangtzepoo where five transports have arrived. The Chinese defences, however, are ever as alert and for this reason, foreign observers feel that the Japanese will not meet with any great success in the landing operations.

The Chinese continue to fight stubbornly and gallantly against the aggressors with their superior equipment and the one outstanding feature is that the Chinese air force have done remarkably well, especially insofar as the "dog fights" are concerned.

ENEMY ATTACKS REPULSED
The Chinese claim successes in the Lotten sector, though Jungtin was heavily bombarded but the damage done has not yet been ascertained. At Luhang several Japanese attacks were repulsed and in this connection a Chinese military spokesman claimed that their artillery wrought havoc with the Japanese gun positions. Three thousand Japanese troops were forced to retreat and 1,000 were claimed to have been killed or wounded and the papers found on the dead soldiers revealed that they were amongst the most recently arrived in Shanghai.

Pootung came in for its usual quota of aerial bombardment yesterday from the Japanese war-planes. Three Chinese planes re-connotted over Yangtzepoo yesterday but they did not drop any bombs nor did the Japanese anti-aircraft guns go into action. The planes left after a short fight over this sector.

From the Sulyuan Front it is learned that the Chinese took some 2,000 Japanese as prisoners in addition to capturing many machine-guns and several heavy field pieces.

The Chinese are now engaged in consolidating their positions on all fronts and it is generally felt that the Japanese will, very shortly, attempt another big offensive.

JAPANESE RAIDERS KILL HUNDREDS IN CITY'S SLUM DISTRICT

MAJORITY OF MURDERED ARE CHILDREN

Fires Burn Fiercely As Police And Volunteers Extricate Dead, Wounded

Hankow, September 24.
Six Japanese bombers and three pursuers roared over the city at 4.50 p.m. and dropped nine bombs three of which were dropped on the Chinese city, four on the other side of the Han River and two into the Yangtze, barely 200 yards from H.M.S. Aphis. It is estimated that 100 were killed and 200 wounded, all being non-combatants of the poorer classes, but no foreigners were killed or injured.

Eighty dwellings were demolished on the Hankow side of the Yangtze and elsewhere. It appears that the Hanyan Arsenal was the Japanese objective but it is reliably stated that no military establishment was affected. The Commissioner of Police rendered sterling service while students of the Wuhan University assisted the authorities to tend to the unconscious and groaning wounded, while weeping women stood over their relatives.

Most of this afternoon's slaughter occurred in the Wuchingmiao slum section of Hankow city near where there are no military establishments while it is feared that four bombs that were dropped in Hanyan also accounted for a considerable number of killed and wounded. Meanwhile it is additionally learned that two bombs landed in the compound of a Roman Catholic middle school in Wuchang where the only casualty was a Chinese student who was incautiously regarding the raiders from a window.

Fires started where the bombs were dropped and are burning fiercely while police and volunteers have extricated the injured and dead attendant with the usual scenes of wailing relatives and immense crowds of onlookers. Owing to the fact that the city is in ferment it is impossible to obtain actual figures of casualties to-night but it is feared that to-morrow will reveal details paralleling the bombing of Nanking and Canton.—Reuter.

SURPRISED AT PRESENT ATTITUDE OF THE POWERS

JAPANESE BLOCKADE WILL HAVE NO APPRECIABLE EFFECT ON CHINA'S RESISTANCE

Generalissimo's Statement

Nanking, Sept. 24.
The Japanese bombing of Nanking will not affect the military situation but only give the Chinese populace and also the people of the world a fuller realization of Japanese barbarism, declared Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek when interviewed by foreign correspondents to-day. Chinese resistance will continue as long as Japanese aggression continues, he opined and America's present attitude was not the real American attitude. He was convinced that the American people and Government will always uphold justice, law and order and with the long history of Sino-American friendship, to give China sympathy and support in her struggle against Japanese aggression.

GENERALISSIMO "FIT AND CHEERFUL"

Looking fit and cheerful, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek sat beside his wife who acted as his interpreter. Both expressed gratitude for the visit of the foreign correspondents to Nanking despite the Japanese bombings especially for the "accurate report published in the world press concerning China's struggle against Japanese aggression."

Commenting on America's attitude the Generalissimo said that China was fighting not only for her own existence, but also for upholding the principles of the Nine Power Treaty and League Covenant. He contended it was therefore up to all signatories to both to support China's struggle and he said the question of neutrality could not be considered as long as these instruments remained in force.

"I am confident the people and government of the signatories have not forgotten their obligations." Questioned about America's partial embargo on the shipment of war material to China and Japan, and the American Ambassador's action in boarding the gunboat on Tuesday, the Generalissimo said, "It is not necessary for me to comment, for what our American friends and correspondents in China, who have seen what has been going on, feel must be identical with what I feel."

Referring to the responsibility of the other powers, the Generalissimo declared that while the other signatories should live up to their obligations, he believed "America's responsibility was far greater as she convened the Washington Conference and was mainly instrumental for the conclusion of the Nine Power Treaty and League Covenant."

Severe Fighting

London, Sept. 24: Severe fighting is reported on the various fronts in Spain. In Cordoba the Government troops are reported to have been driven back. Madrid was again bombed by insurgent planes to-day. Reuter's correspondent with the Insurgents in Oviedo which has been surrounded by Government troops for sometime, states that the city has been reduced to a shambles and buildings are covered with innumerable marks of shells and bullets. The Insurgents declared that a relief column is on its way to lift the Government siege of the city.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

OPIUM TRAFFIC REPORT

London, Sept. 24.
The report to the League of Nations on traffic in opium and other dangerous drugs during 1936 states that addiction to narcotic drugs is not prevalent in the United Kingdom. The approximate number of addicts known to the Central Office at the end of last year was 616 of whom approximately 137 were members of the medical profession, three dentists, five pharmacists and two veterinary surgeons.—British Wireless Service.

CORRESPONDENCE

NOT MERELY MURDER

(To the Editor, the "Hong Kong Daily Press.")

Dear Sir.—We congratulate your paper on its excellent editorials of the past month and especially the one of to-day's and look forward to many more such enlightening editorials in the future.

Not merely murder, but murder most foul is daily perpetrated by these vandals of the air. What intrepid courage and breath-taking skill these indomitable Japanese aviators display in bombing utterly defenceless and innocent people.

To-day in this so-called civilized nation we find the counterpart of the barbarian hordes that swept the Roman Empire with sword and fire. Only to-day, they leave a bloodier carnage behind them, a carnage of torment and agony let loose by the bombs belched forth by gray-bellied monsters swooping from the skies.

Our hats are off to China and our prayers go with her. Her stubborn and magnificent defence against a bullying aggressor has evoked the admiration of the whole world. Finding the armed strength of China, a fortress of steel, the cowardly invaders have launched their attacks on the unarmed populace in the great cities. But the China of yesterday has vanished; to-day she presents a bulwark of courage and unity which will never break.

HOCKEY DISCUSSION

Association Disapproves
Of Tournaments
For Trophy

MR. TYLER LEAVES MEETING

After lengthy discussion, the Hong Kong Hockey Association, at a meeting of the Council held yesterday evening decided that no player who is a member of the Association will be allowed to participate in any hockey tournament for a trophy.

The action follows the proposed affiliation of the United Hockey Tournament to the Hong Kong Hockey Association.

Previously, it was decided that the United Hockey Tournament was intended for the stronger teams and the Marnak Tournament for the weaker teams, on condition that their rules were subjected to the approval of the Association.

At yesterday's meeting a letter from the United Hockey Tournament was read in which it was stated that the United Hockey Tournament desired to affiliate with the Association but made two reservations which were to the effect that the Tournament would hold their right to debar any application that was unanimously approved by the committee; that the Association would not interfere with their view of playing for a shield on which the name of the champion team was to be inscribed. The letter also stated that if the above reservations were met with disapproval, they would continue to run the tournament independently.

The conditions were put to the vote and defeated and the proposed affiliation was dropped.

In the course of further discussion, it was proposed that Association members will be debarred from taking part in any tournament for a trophy, otherwise the member concerned shall cease to be an affiliated member of the Association.

MEMBER LEAVES

When this motion was proposed, Mr. L. Tyler, Hon. Secretary of the United Hockey Tournament and former Hon. Secretary of the Hong Kong Hockey Association, asked permission to leave the meeting. This was granted by the Chairman (Capt. G. W. F. Kimm).

Other correspondence was read, including a letter from the Macao Hockey Club asking for dates to be fixed for the coming Interport. It was agreed to leave the arrangements to the Hon. Secretary, Mr. G. T. Palmer.

The following sub-committees were elected:- Inter-section Tournament (Civilians):-A. E. P. Guest, R. A. Bates,
G. E. R. Divett.

Umpires Board:-Captain G. W. R. Kimm, Lt.-Comdr. Bowerman, A. E. P. Guest, and K. Hussain (Secretary).

It was announced that the Council will hold another meeting on Thursday, September 30, at 5.30 p.m. in St. Andrew's Church Hall to receive the report of the sub-committee appointed for the re-framing of the Hockey rules.

A petition by Ngan Kwong Shi, widow, Ngan Kan Shi, concubine, and Ngai Hon Hin, general merchant, all of the same address, for grant of probate of the will to the deceased has been granted by the Supreme Court.

EUROPEAN FINED

For Dangerous Driving

Mr. C. J. Tacchi, of the Public Works Department, was summoned before Mr. E. Himsforth at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday for driving in a manner dangerous to the public in Nathan Road on September 9. He pleaded guilty and a fine of $50 was imposed.

Acting Sub-Inspector A. R. Brittain said that defendant had been driving his car, No. 2984 in a zig-zag course in Nathan Road at 2.15 a.m. on the day in question. At Cameron Road he turned in and parked the car.

Defendant explained that he had had a very hard day and was rather tired.

SUMMONSES ADJOURNED

Three summonses against R. Woodcraft, 35, Cumberland Road, Kowloon Tong, for driving without being in full control of his car in Tung Choi Street on September 1, driving without due care and caution, and failing to notify change of address on his driver's licence, were adjourned for one week as defendant is away from the Colony.

IN A HURRY FOR MEDICINE

When Chan Ping-fan appeared before Mr. W. Schofield yesterday at the Central Magistracy on a summons for driving his employer's car without permission, he said he had a stomach ache and was in a hurry to get some medicine.

Lt. Commander Turner, R.N., said that on the night in question Mrs. Turner wanted to use the car urgently at about 8.30 p.m. When she got to the garage she found it missing. Commander Turner looked around for some time and asked the care-taker to note the time of its return. Sometime after 11 p.m. the defendant returned with the car and on Sept. 14 the driver was dismissed and summoned for the offence.

In answer to the summons the defendant said that he had told the boy to inform Commander Turner that he had taken the car. The magistrate did not take a serious view and registered a caution.

CHRISTIANITY DID NOT MAKE CHRIST THE HIDDEN YEARS

(BY SCRUTATOR)

After the event recorded of him at the age of twelve a veil of silence falls over the life of Jesus of Nazareth until the opening of the public ministry. What we may believe concerning those years has not the backing of an individual historical witness. These were the years when his nature unfolded itself through an inward and silent process. There was little or nothing of the marvellous growth revealed until its full flowering blossomed into an astonished world.

Even the greatest psychologist must admit that no more fitting surroundings than the hill-town of Nazareth could have been selected for the training and growth of such a character as Christ's. It was a quiet place where men can have leisure for their own thoughts, yet it was not too isolated from the world to render its inhabitants narrow or exclusive in their loyalties and interests. It lay open to the sky, surrounded by a lovely prospect of little hills and distant mountains, and near-by was the great highway from Syria to Egypt. The plain of Esdraelon spread out beneath it and every field on it was steeped in the legends and memories of two thousand years. It was in such surroundings that Jesus grew into manhood—he was outside the great world yet he was in the full current of its life.

JEWISH RELIGION

The Jewish Religion was founded on a book and because of this fact education, such as we understand, was more widely diffused in Palestine than in any other country of the times. Every synagogue had a school attached to it, and the very synagogue itself was more a school than a place of worship—a school for the lifelong study of the sacred law. Jesus received a thorough Jewish education, of that there is not the slightest doubt. We know that that is true from his recorded teaching. It is saturated with Old Testament thought, his very language breathes the atmosphere and style of its nobility. In all probability his education was limited to this single book, but it is a great book, some men think it the greatest book in the world, and Jesus mastered it until it became in very truth his own.

THE CARPENTER

In due course Jesus took his place beside his father and learned the trade of the bench. This calling no doubt had belonged to his family for generations. Craftsmanship was held in high honour among the Jews. Joseph does not appear in the main Gospel narratives. From this we must assume that he had died some previous to the public ministry, which, if it is true, would mean that Jesus himself had undertaken the headship of his family before he renounced it and all its privileges and responsibilities to undertake his greater work. Jesus himself was "the carpenter." Jesus' position in his town was an honourable one; and it is just as likely that it was economically comfortable, as that it involved him in poverty and hunger.

THE MIND OF JESUS

There have been many attempts made to explain the mind of Jesus by the influences which must have played upon him during these "hidden years" of his life. Hundreds of books have been written about the discipline of the synagogue, and the various schools of thought with which he must have come into contact during his education. Certain it is that he was responsive, as few men have been responsive, to every suggestion of the truth no matter from whence it came to him. But even although the influences from without upon him were good and strong, it is not to them purely and simply, or even primarily, that we must look to discover his reason d'être. It is significant in this connection that his brother James never departed, even when he professed to follow Christ, from the narrowness and exclusiveness of his traditions. Why was Jesus so different? The forces that moulded him must have had their rise within himself, in the depths of his own being. Even if we knew very single event and happening of these "hidden years" we should still, I am convinced,

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST.

Subject: Reality

The subject of the Lesson, Sermon in all churches of Christ Scientist, to-morrow, September 26, will be "Reality."

The Golden Text will be: "For over, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven." (Psalms 119:89).

Among others, the following citations from the Bible will be read: "Let thy mercies come also unto me, O Lord, even thy salvation, according to thy word. And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth; for I have hoped in thy judgements. So shall I keep thy law continually for ever and ever." And I will walk at liberty: for I seek thy precepts." (Ps. 119:4-45).

The Lesson Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science Text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To heal the sick, one must be familiar with the great verities of being. Mortals are no more material in their waking hours than when they act, walk, see, hear, enjoy, or suffer in dreams. We can never treat mortal mind and matter separately, because they combine as one. Give up the belief that mind is, even temporarily, compressed within the skull, and you will quickly become more manly or womanly. You will understand yourself and your Maker better than before. Human theories are helpless to make man harmonious or immortal, since he is so already, according to Christian Science. Our only need is to know this and reduce to practice the real man's divine Principle, Love." (Pages 397,490).

SHALL WE DANCE?

Blending romance, melody, dancing and laughter, "Shall We Dance?" the new Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers musical film is said to hit a new height in screen entertainment.

Made on a scale that surpasses all the noted duo's previous vehicles and offering brilliant novelties in its dances, songs and settings, "Shall We Dance?" is hailed as the finest and most entertaining picture of the two stars' careers.

The story deals with the hectic love affair between Astaire as an outstanding ballet dancer, and Miss Rogers as a noted revue favourite. Astaire's interest in the slender tap-dancer leads to a series of incidents which in turn give rise to popular belief that the two are married.

Despite Miss Rogers' denials, the rumours grow and, unable to escape the resulting publicity, the two decide that the only way to obtain their freedom is actually to get married. This ingenious plot is played against a glittering background of modern life, with spectacular dances and tuneful song numbers woven into action, and with even more to romance and comedy than any of the previous Astaire-Rogers vehicles.

The two stars present three dances together, one of them a highly unique roller-skating number. Others include a solo dance by Astaire in time to the whirling machinery of an ocean liner's engine-room another solo in the finale, a sparkling duet dance by Astaire and Harriet Hector, America's foremost ballet artiste, and a solo number by Miss Hector, as well as a group of novel ensemble dances specially created for the picture.

"Shall We Dance" opens to-day at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres.

DAY AT THE RACES

A horse-doctor pretending to be a specialist on "double blood pressure," a jockey who spurs his horse to win by showing the nag a picture of a man the horse doesn't like, and a vendor of incredibly bad racing tips will have you bent in laughter when you see "A Day at the Races," which is on to-day at the King's Theatre, with the three Marx Brothers portraying the funniest roles of their entire careers in a picture which is an uproarious laugh from beginning to end.

Groucho Marx plays the horse doctor, Harpo the jockey, and Chico the vendor of bad tips. Assisting them in some of the most amusing situations ever conceived for a motion picture are Maureen O'Sullivan, the talented singing juvenile, Allan Jones, the stately Margaret Dumont whose dignity is constantly pricked by one or all three Marxes, Esther Muir, who undergoes terrific "punishment" from the comedians, Leonard Ceeley, Douglass Dumbrille and others. The hand-picked cast could not have been improved upon.

Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers co-starring in RKO's latest musical, "Shall We Dance?" commencing to-day at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres.

SAND THAT "SINGS" AWAY FROM HOME

How Roar And Hum Are Produced

"Singing" sand can retain its musical power when, transported from the desert and taken in a bag to a City laboratory, according to Mr. A. D. Lewis, a South African scientist, says the London "Morning Post."

But it will lose its power if kept for long with the top of the bag open, although this musical quality can be restored by heating in an oven.

Mr. Lewis's investigations have been made with the famous "rotring sands" of the south-east corner of the Kalahari desert. In a report, summarised in the current issue of "Nature," he describes two distinct kinds of noise which the sand makes—a "roar" caused by pushing the sand forward in a heap, and a "hum" by keeping the sand moving slowly down the slope where these musical sands are to be found.

The roar, he states, is heard most intensely along the steep southern face of the sand-dunes, sounding at 600 yards distance like the rumbling of distant thunder. Merely moving the fingers up, and down the sand produces a roar, the upward motion giving a higher note than the downward.

A MYSTERY
One of the mysteries of "singing" sand is that there may be nothing in its appearance to distinguish it from ordinary sand, lying under apparently similar conditions only a short distance away. Examination of the Kalahari roaring sands, he records, suggests that its grains may be more rounded and more uniform in size than those of "silent" sand.

"Singing" sand was at one time believed to be confined to the island of Elgg in the Inner Hebrides. Professor Bolton, of Hartford, Connecticut, and other scientists have, however, shown that there are quite a number of places in Europe and America where they may be found.

Both prolonged rubbing and wetting have been reported as destroying the sand's capacity for song. It is claimed that even walking in shoes over sand of this special quality produces a tingling sensation in the feet—one more example of the ease with which it can be set in vibration.

AFTER THE THIN MAN

With all the entertaining points of its predecessor, and a number of new ones, Dashiell Hammett's mystery story, "After The Thin Man," opened at the Majestic Theatre to-day, starring William Powell and Myrna Loy. This is a sequel to "The Thin Man" which Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios produced in response to public demand.

The same director, W. S. Van Dyke, was responsible. Hunt Stromberg produced the film and there was no doubt that the sequel picks up in high where the original opus left off.

ITALIAN VOLUNTEERS IN SPAIN

Geneva, Sept. 24.
It is understood that the question of the withdrawal of Italian volunteers from Spain was raised in the course of the talks between M. BELGIAN CABINET CRISIS

Brussels, Sept. 23.
The "entire capital is under the shadow of the threatening Government crisis, with the fate of the van Zeeland Government in the balance."

King Leopold met not only the Finance Minister, de Man, but also the former Foreign Minister Paul Hymans for lengthy conferences on Thursday, according to reports here.

"The National Council," of the Belgian Labour Party after lengthy discussions declared its intention to support the Van Zeeland Government, but should M. van Zeeland resign on grounds of health, a Socialist was to be entrusted with the Premiership. A definite decision of Premier van Zeeland was not announced up till to-day.

Three liberal ministers visited the Premier and pleaded with him to continue at the head of the Government. He did not decline the wish but reserved his right to make a final decision.

It is reported that a Cabinet meeting will take place to-day, and it is thought that in it the political situation will be clarified.—

NATIONAL UNIFICATION ESTABLISHED GENERALISSIMO ISSUES STATEMENT

Nanking, Sept. 23: In a lengthy statement made public to the country to-day in connection with the manifesto issued by the Chinese Communist Party yesterday, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek declared that since national unification is now established on a firm foundation China will continue to carry out her fixed national policy. He expressed the hopes that the Chinese Communist Party will sincerely carry out the points in the manifesto yesterday and immediately abolish the Communist movement and the Red Army in China.

Generalissimo Chiang deplored the unnecessary sacrifices made during the last 10 years owing to lack of real cooperation and unification, which he stated had contributed to much of the present crisis.

The National Government, during the last few years has constantly pursued a policy for closer cooperation in the country and to drop all individual prejudices. The Chinese Communist Party by their announcement, is proof that the affairs of the people and country should be placed before private interests. Generalissimo Chiang added.

This is in harmony with the platform of the Kuomintang that the Three Peoples Principles should be the national policy.

The Generalissimo went on to say that at this present crisis the past will be forgotten and every effort will be made to strengthen the cooperation among the people and the Government.

Generalissimo Chiang pointed out that any party in the country which is willing to follow the flag to defend China against foreign aggression will be heartily welcomed by the Government.

Since the national foundation is now firmly established, the people will form a united front to resist our common foe and to fight to preserve the life of the country.

China, Generalissimo Chiang concluded, is not merely fighting for herself, but also for world peace and international faith.—Central News.

How Doctors Treat Stomach Trouble

By Dr. Scott M.D. Paris.

Although doctors are human, you rarely find them suffering from indigestion. The reason is that they know exactly what causes it and how to treat it. Personally, I know nothing to equal 'Bisurated' Magnesia as a speedy and lasting remedy for all digestive troubles. If I eat anything that disagrees with me I take either a teaspoonful of the powder, or four of the tablets, and there is an end of the trouble. Indeed, there is something almost miraculous about the speed with which 'Bisurated' Magnesia arrests acute stomach pain. 'Bisurated' Magnesia (powder or tablets) can be obtained from all Chemists and Stores. I advise every sufferer to take some after their next meal, the relief will be a revelation.

PARIS BOMB OUTRAGES

Perpetrator Sent To Prison

Crete, Sept. 24. The Italian terrorist, Gardella, who is alleged to have been concerned in the recent bomb outrages in Paris was sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

Gardella, gave evidence to the effect that when he lived in Italy, the Spaniard, Armando Ruiz, asked him, on behalf of General Franco, to perpetrate a series of bomb outrages in France. Being workless he agreed and went to Marseilles where he met the Italian, Carlo Altomonte, who gave him several bombs and asked him to blow up the Spanish Consulate in Toulouse and Military Hospital in Perpignan, but he refused.

Ruiz and Altomonte were each sentenced to five years' imprisonment for absence from the trial.—Reuter.

JAPANESE AIR RAIDS SPREAD

Nanking, Sept. 24. Japanese air raids in the past forty-eight hours have extended throughout China. Chufu, the birthplace of Confucius, being among the dozen of localities visited. Thirty Japanese planes bombed Kiangyin Forts, down river from Nanking for an hour, and it is reported that the anti-aircraft battery was silenced and a Chinese warship badly damaged. A number of bombs fell in the Jesuit Mission and Women's Hospital in Sienhsien. The Bishop's residence and hospital were hit but there were no casualties.

British and other Consular officials strongly protested to the Japanese authorities, and it is not yet possible to accurately estimate the damage and casualties in Nanking as the result of yesterday's raids. One Chinese report puts the number of dead at only twenty and injured thirty, apart from a hundred Chinese killed in the refugee camp outside the city.

The Japanese claim to have smashed the centre of the Chinese defences near Paotingfu, but military operations were seriously hampered by heavy rain, the trenches on both sides being flooded. The rain coupled with the strong Chinese resistance is also holding up the Japanese in Shanghai who are reported to be awaiting reinforcements before launching a major offensive.—Reuter.

JAPANESE PLANES OVER FUKIEN AND KIANGSI

Nanking, Sept. 24. Japanese bombing planes have now raided practically all of the provinces along the China coast from Shanghai to Kwangtung.

According to an official report received here to-day, 12 Japanese planes flew over Fukien and Kiangsi provinces at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Flying north-westward the planes scouted over a wide area in Kiangsi province. Three of the planes, flying at 6,000 metres, appeared directly over Nanchang, provincial capital of Kiangsi, and dropped a number of bombs which all fell on the outskirts of the city.

The planes fled when the Chinese anti-aircraft guns went into action.

The "all clear" signal was sounded at 9:30 in the evening.—Central News.

AN INDELIBLE STAIN

New York, Sept. 24. Such acts place an indelible stain on Japan's claim to a place among civilised nations, says the "Herald-Tribune" in commenting on the Nanking and Canton bombings, and says the formal protest by the United States adds fresh fuel to Japan's hatred for the United States. The "New York Times" sees a touch of madness in the Japanese policy, and says that Japan is building up a justifiable hatred in China destined to outlast whatever conquest Japan may have undertaken. Every bomb falling in Canton and Nanking destroys something of what remains in the western world of friendliness and admiration for the rulers of Japan.—Reuter.

PAOTINGFU ZERO HOUR

Peiping, Sept. 23. With the Japanese right wing reaching the region south of the road Mancheng-Paotingfu, about 10 kilometres west of the latter city, and the centre of the Japanese army is slowly encircling it, the zero hour for Paotingfu is approaching.

Not only is this city, the headquarters of the Northern Chinese Army in the present campaign, but it is also the strongest garrison town in North China.

The city was formerly the seat of the Provincial Government of Hopei, and of the famous military academy, attended by the majority of Chinese generals, including the Generalissimo, Chiang Kai Shek.—Transocean News Service.

JAPANESE NEAR PAOTINGFU

Peiping, Sept. 2. After severe fighting for two days the Japanese troops have almost reached the walls of Paotingfu, the fall of which is momentarily expected. During the fighting two Japanese planes were shot north of Paotingfu by Chinese anti-aircraft guns which went into action for the first time in North China. Shanghai Province was brought within the scope of the hostilities when Japanese naval aircraft bombed Tsinling and Yen-chow, the action being regarded as significant as up to now the attitude of Han Fu-chu regarding the Sino-Japanese conflict was doubtful.—Reuter.

FURTHER NANKING RELIEF

Nanking, Sept. 24. A very cloudy sky and threatening rain promises Nanking further temporary relief from the Japanese bombings. Meanwhile the exodus of the populace has ceased and city life is normalising.

From Shanghai it is learned that despite the advent of colder weather, the cholera epidemic is worsening. There are now over 1500 cases in the Settlement and French Concession and up to now 180 Chinese and 10 foreigners, mostly Russians, have died from the disease.—Reuter.

CHINESE LINES AT TSANGCHOW REMAIN UNCHANGED

Tsangchow, Sept. 24: Despite the fierce fighting which is going on in the vicinity of Tsangchow, important railway town on the Tientsin-Pukow line, the Chinese positions remain unchanged, Chinese military headquarters announced to-day.

A number of shells fell near the railway station here but no damage was done. It is claimed that the Chinese left flank is advancing slowly northward.—Central News.

THREE CHINESE PLANES OVER SHANGHAI

Shanghai, Sept. 24: Three Chinese planes appeared over the Yangtsepoos district late yesterday afternoon and after circling over the Japanese positions several times they flew away.

The planes drew fire from the Japanese warships, but none of the shells took effect.—Central News.

Christianity Did Not Make Christ

have to seek the explanation of Jesus of Nazareth within himself, there is no other source which can explain his life.

For thirty years then, he lived as a carpenter in Nazareth, observing the world around him, communing with God and his own heart. Gradually he must have learned of the great task to which he was being called by God, and when he knew he continued consciously to prepare himself for it, waiting patiently until the divine voice, commanded him. The call came at last through a prophet, a man who suddenly appeared in the wilderness. Centuries had passed since a prophetic voice had broken upon the static atmosphere of the Jewish spirit. There had been hundreds of teachers, clever, learned and eloquent, but their wisdom was obviously second-hand. None of them spoke with authority making men feel that they spoke out of the power of an inner vision. The nation had resigned itself to living on its past. The conviction was abroad that God had spoken His last word. Then one day the news travelled round that a new prophet had come with a new and wonderful message and that his name was John.

THE WORLD AWAKES

Although it is but a comparatively short time since Japan committed mass murder from the air by the bombing of Canton, yet world opinion has hardened against Japan more during the past few hours than during the past few years. The pity of it all is that it required the sacrifice of so many innocent and defenceless people to awaken the world to a fuller realization of what Japan really is and what is to be expected if ever that nation led by a vicious gang of military terrorists is allowed to get a stranglehold on Asia and the Pacific.

Already the cabled messages tell of demonstrations against Japan for this latest and most terrible act. The leaders of Britain, and the United States of America are at long last bestirring themselves in an effort to find what is termed "a way out." It is all very fine for diplomats to vent their feelings in high-sounding phrases enshrining noble idealism at Geneva. It is perhaps quite interesting to sit as members of a commission of investigation and produce numerous and voluminous reports pointing out obvious truths and castigating blatant wrong-doers. But all that is purely academic and of absolutely no practical avail when it comes to dealing in a definite manner with a recalcitrant nation like Japan.

There must be action, for words have proved futile. It must by now be patent that every possible avenue for an amicable settlement of the Sino-Japanese situation has been explored and every reasonable argument exhausted. The plain fact is that Japan will not listen to reason. She must be forced.

Until the Canton massacre there was apparent a feeling that, in spite of Shanghai and the shooting of Britain's Ambassador and the blockade, Japan was not going to do her damndest. That murderous raid on Canton has definitely demonstrated that Japan is determined to go to the uttermost limits, and, of course, to break all bounds usually observed by nations of honour and dignity. That the world has been awakened to this colossal Japanese peril is the most encouraging sign of the times, but knowledge without action is worthless.

What Japan can hope to get out of this war is still a question unanswered. Thus far the results have been negative and detrimental to her national prestige and trade. It has, for instance, been estimated, and we think somewhat conservatively, that the commercial losses sustained by Japan in China alone amount to $5,000,000 per day. As favourable trade agreements are based on goodwill as between contracting nations, the Japanese commercial losses throughout the world must by now have reached

TYPHOON RELIEF FUND

The Chairman of Tung Wah Hospital, acknowledges with grateful thanks on behalf of the destitute, the following donations to the "Typhoon Relief Fund":

Previously acknowledged $1,885.00

Mr. Eu Tong Sen 1,000.00

The Wai Yung Chamber of Commerce 100.00

Messrs. Nin Yat Tong 100.00

Mrs. Rodgers 25.00

Mr. Chiu Sek Pang 10.00

Total $3,120.00

a fabulous total. We know, for instance, from personal information that in Australia there is virtually a boycott of all Japanese goods. In Britain and America where feeling is mounting against Japan as never before, it is not to be presumed that trade with Japan will be stimulated by a continuation of her present policy. By setting the world against her she has everything to lose. Surely she can see the writing on the wall?

China, through the Generalissimo, has made it perfectly clear upon what terms a settlement can be based. The world knows those terms as itemised in the Four Points pronouncement by Chiang Kai-shek. Japan must first of all withdraw her troops from Chinese territory. If she is unwilling to do that, then China cannot be blamed for rejecting any and every plan of mediation.

An awakened world to-day shows its support of China. Will Japan continue on her blind way or desist from further depredations and make reasonable amends? If not, then it seems clear to us that the Great Powers must swing their weight with China—and turn on "the heat" against Japan.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY

Annual Ball Fixed For November 26

CHIEF JUSTICE NEW CHIEFTAIN

The Scotsmen of Hong Kong have, decided, after much argument, to celebrate their patron saint's day on Friday, November 26, although that will be four days before St. Andrew's Day falls officially.

There had been two schools of thought on the matter. One favoured holding the annual ball on St. Andrew's Day proper, which falls this year on Tuesday, Nov. 30. The other favoured the preceding Friday, because with the "morning after the night before" feeling most of the prospective celebrants feel they could, with the exercise of much will power, be able to get through the half-day's toll on Saturday, whereas they cannot contemplate the prospect of having to go through the whole of Wednesday in the state of mental inertia which is the usual legacy of "Ball Nights!"

This decision was come to at the annual meeting of the clans yesterday evening at which the Chieftain, Mr. R. M. McLay, presided. He was supported by the Vice-President, Sir Atholl MacGregor, who was later elected Chieftain for the ensuing year.

Sir Atholl MacGregor, the newly-elected Chieftain.

CHAIRMAN'S REMARKS

The chairman said: There is little for me to add to the committee's report other than to announce the name of the winner of the J. R. M. Scholarship which has been awarded to W. G. Pryde, Jr. Young Pryde has had a wonderful school record in Hong Kong and has gone to England to complete his studies.

The year has been quite successful, both from a financial and social point of view. We were fortunate in having only moderate calls on our charity funds, but I am afraid the ensuing winter will find us called upon to render assistance in more cases than usual, but I would remind members that our charitable activities are limited to the extent of our members' annual subscriptions and it is up to all of us to do our utmost to bring in as many new members as possible.

I now propose the adoption of the report and accounts as published and certified by our honorary auditor Mr. D. Black, and shall be glad to answer to the best of my ability any questions regarding the accounts.

The motion was seconded by Mr. A. R. H. Phillips and carried unanimously.

OFFICERS ELECTED

The election of office-bearers resulted as follows:—Chieftain: Sir Atholl MacGregor; Vice-President: Mr. William Kay; Hon. Secretaries and Treasurers: Mr. E. M. Bryden and Mr. D. S. Robb; Committee: Dr. J. W. Anderson, Messrs. D. Drummond, J. Forbes, H. R. Forsyth, D. J. Gilmore, J. A. D. Morrison and B. Wylie.

It was decided to hold a practice dance on the Tuesday before the Ball at the Peninsula Hotel.

On the proposal of Mr. Wylie, seconded by Mr. Davidson, it was decided to extend the privilege of membership of the Society to those members of St. Andrew's Society of Shanghai who are now resident in the Colony as a result of the war in the North.

MALAYAN REVIEW

Train Accidents

Accidents of the kind which overtook the Kuala Lumpur-Singapore night mail train near Kulal recently are fortunately of rare occurrence on the Malayan railway system, and, with the exception of the smash at Tanjong Malim some two years ago, when the night mail was wrecked owing to the removal of a length of rail, it is doubtful if there is anything in the history of the Railways Department to compare with it, says the "Malaya Tribune." Travelling at forty miles an hour, the engine and the leading eight coaches left the metals and the remarkable thing is that no life was lost. That in itself is perhaps a tribute to the solidity and stability of the coaches, none of which, despite the fact that a great deal of track was torn up, turned over. As to the cause, or causes, of the accident, it would be premature to offer any theories. An official inquiry will be held and the public may rest assured that a thorough investigation will be undertaken and all available evidence sifted before any announcement is made, a procedure which is in the interests of both the Railways Department and the public. Meanwhile, it is a matter for congratulation that the Department is able to continue to live up to its proud boast of never having lost the life of a passenger. The element of chance may have something to do with that unique record, but having regard to the length of the permanent way and the wild nature of the country through which it runs, every credit must be accorded the Department for maintaining a standard of safety which must surely be without comparison anywhere.

Sultan's Jubilee

The warmest congratulations of all communities in Malaya will be extended to the Sultan of Selangor, who celebrates the jubilee of his accession to the Throne. It is exactly forty years ago—this by Malay reckoning constituting a Jubilee—since the Sultan was proclaimed, and he has ruled over a very contented State wisely and well. It is unfortunate that the later years of his reign should have been marred by the problem of the Selangor succession, which, although London has apparently said its last word on the subject, is still a source of anxiety to the Sultan.

Sir Ala'udin Suleiman Shah succeeded his grandfather, Sultan Abdul Samad, in 1898, and during his long reign there have been many changes of a commercial and administrative nature. The land has been opened up for the production of the natural wealth which it contains in abundance, and both the Sultan and his subjects have benefited considerably from the opportunities held out to them by British officials, who demonstrated the value of the State's resources.

It is interesting to note that, like the present Ruler, the four preceding Sultans all enjoyed exceptionally long lives. The total span of time covered by these five reigns is two hundred years!

Mosaic Of Books

BALDWIN, THE TORCHBEARER

The Torch I Would Hand to You. From Speeches and Addresses by Stanley Baldwin. Selected and arranged by Rodney Bennett (University of London Press, 2s. 6d.).

It is not often that a politician's speeches will bear re-reading. They are composed for the passing day, and their interest passes with the occasion. But it is the singular quality of so many of Lord Baldwin's speeches that they smell sweet and blossom in the dusk. No one can read them without being aware of the faith, the philosophy, the wise tolerance and the ambition to serve the future hour, which run through them like a thread, linking each to each with natural pety. The selection which composes this little book touches on many diverse topics—the League of Nations, Education, Patriotism, Empire, the Beauty of England, an Englishman's Religion and the English Bible—but one can hardly turn a page anywhere without coming on some thought, some counsel, that leaves its impress on the mind, as worthy of remembrance.

IN SOBER LIVERY
There are no glittering phrases; there is no rhetoric. All is in sober livery clad, simple, unaffected, unstrained. And yet much remains memorable, like the talk of Wordsworth's Michael who "felt with spirit so profound." "You do not go into politics for what you can get; you go there for what you can give and do." Such is the admonition of Lord Baldwin to the Junior Imperial League. And again: "Do not talk about our rights; talk about our duties. For if everybody in this country did his duty there could be no question of rights: we should all have them."

Nor is this counsel a pose, an affectation. It is the expression of the deep conviction, which moved the same speaker to say: "If I did not believe that our work was done in the faith and hope that at some day—it may be a million years hence—the Kingdom of God would spread over the whole world, I could have no hope. I could do no work, and I would give my office over to anyone who would take it."

Yet Mr. Baldwin is no mere moralist. He is rather a humanist and one who loves his fellowman, especially if that fellowman be one of the common people of the countryside. Though he casts his deep-set thoughts and feelings into quiet, conversational language, poetic imagination nevertheless keeps breaking through, as when he says that the British Empire has spread "with the ripple of a restless tide," or when he testifies to our ineradicable love of country things and country beauty. To Mr. Baldwin himself might indeed be applied his own estimate of John Wesley:

"He was typically English: the best native qualities of the Englishmen were in him, and were raised to such an extraordinary pitch that they became genius."

The appeasement which he achieved during his active years was a great service; the torch which he has handed on is a greater still.—"Morning Post."

MISS JOANNA CANNAN

Miss Cannan's pioneer belongs to an age only a very little nearer to our own. The heroine of "Pray Do Not Venture" is a young woman who is rebelling against the star-chival conventions of her time almost as soon as she can walk. This is hardly to be wondered at. With a Mamma who knows to an inch the length of trousers, or whatever they were called, required to drape the legs of a pianoforte in a respectable Victorian household, and a sister equally well versed in the etiquette of the day, Harriet naturally "pines for life—with a dark lover" and other excitements of the kind that may be found in the "disgusting" romances that Mr. Currier Bell—not yet known as Miss Brontë, is misguided enough to write.

Here, indeed, is an amusingly adventurous story. She marries the rich Paul (who ought never to have married at all), and leaves him to go to Australia with the sadly shy David (who ought never to have left the comforts of Manchester). And in the Australia of the fifties, of course, local etiquette proves to be not too like home. On the contrary, she finds there the rougher life of her choice, and once Paul is dead and David safely back in England, she can go her own way to found a dynasty of blue-eyed Australians.

So much for the story itself, which goes with an agreeable swing, but I am not sure that Miss Cannan was well-advised to adopt an early-Victorian mode of recording conversation. No doubt there were people in the fifties whose talk did resemble a page of John-sonian prose but to make anything of the kind seem real and free from caricature when read to-day is almost impossible. It is, moreover, rather a shock to come across the word "moran" in a novel written in this way, and I cannot believe that David, or any of his contemporaries, would ever have said, "I knew it. I sensed it."

Nevertheless, it is a likeable book.—"Sunday Times"

JAPANESE RUTHLESSNESS CONDEMNED

Another Ghastly Epoch Of "Frightfulness"

BOMBING OF NANKING AND CANTON DEPLORED

London, Sept. 24: The horror evoked by the Japanese bombing of Canton is reflected by the huge display given to it by all papers, while the fact that no Government and no military building was touched shows that the bombs were apparently exclusively devoted to the poorest and most crowded quarters. This is given prominence by the thick type of the leading articles in all the papers which, whatever their previous pro-Japanese proclivities, alike voice condemnation of the Japanese ruthlessness.

The "Daily Telegraph" says that unless the conscience of civilisation was an idle phrase it cannot fail to be deeply stirred by the appalling tales of death and devastation in Nanking and Canton. Unless the Governments of Europe and America protest to Japan in adequately impressive terms, Nanking and Canton will be doomed to be scenes of the most ruthless massacres of huge civilian populations on record. If there are sufficient foreign residents among the victims the various Governments will be driven to protect their nationals by irresistible force and public opinion, but that would be more to the honour of civilisation and humanity if before that happened the nations of the West and the United States entered into collective and effective protest.

Another ghastly epoch of "frightfulness" is the way the "Daily Mail" describes it. With the Far Eastern picture, of what up-to-date war entails, the paper asks what can be done to avert the war planes' dreaded death roll and annihilation and damage to property.

Japan's action in raiding its adversary's crowded towns is widely condemned. The protests evoked are not merely because of the material loss incurred, but is prompted by revulsion and feeling on the broad ground of humanity.

The "News Chronicle" says that the attacks on Canton and Nanking make the most humiliating reading it has ever been the duty of a newspaper to print.

"We are in the jungle and China's agony to-day will be Europe's to-morrow if we do not be-strict ourselves. Signs are not wanting for a revolt to reason and conscience, which may hear of China hell, and this is the world's opportunity," says the paper.

CHALLENGE TO CONSCIENCE

The "Daily Herald" says: "The Japanese raids on Canton and Nanking are a plain challenge to the conscience of mankind. While Japan depends on foreign trade for a successful aggression, the nations of the world who consent to that trade cannot escape the charge of acting as accessories to the crime, however involuntary."

"It may be said that economic sanctions are impracticable but public opinion, after the full horror and depravity of the air raids have sunk in, changes as fast as it changes the limits of the practicable it may extend."

The "Manchester Guardian" quotes: "It was the boast of Genghis Khan that he could ride from China to Europe without his horse stumbling. Every town in his path has been laid waste to-day by the Japanese who, having learnt in the course of seven hundred years some new methods of killing, seem to be applying them to a similar purpose in the war with China."

"It is not enough, however, to exclaim in horror. It should be possible to harness this lively emotion to practical ends and it is hard to believe that Germany, the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia have entirely lost influence with Japan who cannot afford to antagonise the whole world at once."—Reuter.

Over 200 Killed: Five Hundred Wounded In Hankow Bombing

Shortage Of Medical Aid Hampers Rescue Work

Bomb Kills Sixty In Refugee Camp

Hankow, September 24. Reuter's correspondent witnessed a most harrowing spectacle in Wuchingmiao where he spent two hours, watching heroic rescue work being done by the police and students. Earlier figures have now proved under-estimated and it is established that over two hundred were killed and five hundred injured.

Standing for ten minutes at a street corner, Reuter's correspondent saw 120 mangled bodies carried past, some moaning terribly, others completely lifeless.

Particularly pathetic were stretchers bearing four or five infants dead, mingled with the dying and bleeding from gaping wounds, and completely naked. The rescue work is being hampered by the failure of the electric light and the lamentable shortage of doctors and ambulance workers although the few that are available are working heroically.

The streets in Wuchingmiao are only six feet wide and fringed with poor hovels which collapsed like packs of cards burying the occupants and passers-by. Pieces of bodies were strewn everywhere or piled in heaps by rescue workers while more ghastly still was an occasional arm or leg waving feebly from beneath.

The student workers were splendid and though many were weeping outright they stuck to their grim task.

The proportion of children killed seems inordinately large presumably owing to their being indoors and tiny bodies seem to have outnumbered those of adults.

One bomb which fell in Hangyang struck a refugee camp and killed sixty and wounded a large number. Separate rescue work is going on in this section.—Reuter.

BLOODBATH WITH A VENGEANCE

Ten thousand Chinese live in Wuchingmiao section which is a conflux of the Han River and the Yangtze. At the time of the bombing there was no soldier for miles while the arsenal, presumably the objective of the raiders is at four miles distant. One bomb narrowly missed the Wesleyan Mission Hospital which is fortunately intact and caring for hundreds of wounded. The occupants of a nearby Chinese girls' school state that there is mass hysteria with the girls running hither and thither frightened out of their lives, shocked and demented at the terrible sights they have been forced to witness. The thousands which throng the streets are behaving stoically enough although the groans of the injured and wails of bereaved relatives are making the night hideous.

Mayor K. C. Wu and other prominent Chinese officials are personally directing operations and preventing wholesale confusion which would otherwise ensue.

Meanwhile Hankow has had its bloodbath with a vengeance and even its distance from the coast has not saved it from the attentions of Japanese raiders.—Reuter.

PLANE IMPOUNDED

The Douglas plane belonging to the China National Aviation Corporation, which was to have left for Hankow yesterday, did not leave the colony and the company's local office is uncertain when she may leave.

Meanwhile, early yesterday morning the machine was impounded by a Supreme Court Bailiff for an alleged debt of $80,000 which the company are said to owe the Texas Oil Company.

COMMODORE'S FATHER DEAD

Admiral Charles G. Dicken

Commodore E. H. C. Dicken, R.N., has received news of the death of his father, Admiral Charles Gauntlett Dicken in England.

In his present post in Hong Kong, Commodore Dicken is following in the steps of his late father who was Commodore here over 30 years ago. A further coincidence is that both were appointed to the same depot ship, H.M.S. Tamar, which still holds a venerable position in the Dockyard.

Admiral Dicken died at the age of 83. He was an officer of considerable attainments, and if he had had more opportunities in his later career he would undoubtedly have distinguished himself further.

GERMAN HARVEST THANKSGIVING DAY

Harvest Thanksgiving Day, to be held this year on October 3, is together with "National Labour Day" on May 1 and the Nuremberg Party Day in September, one of the three political holidays returning annually of National Socialist Germany. It is remarkable in what short space of time the Hitler administration understood to develop the organisation of these fetes.

The locality of harvest thanksgiving is at Buckeburg which up to a few years ago was unknown to most Germans, forming a sloping part of the Weser, the place has now become celebrated and familiar far beyond the borders of Germany. The harvest festivities at Buckeburg form an expression of economic and cultural restitution and approbation of the peasantry of the Third Reich, and in the same measure a confirmation of German will for an extended independence of importation of foreign articles of food, which, of course, does not exempt consciousness of not being able to dispense with importation even with extreme results from German soil.

Government and party action have understood in a masterly manner to give the harvest thanksgiving fete a stamp the deep sentiment of which nobody can overlook. The dimensions the festivities on the Buckeburg have taken are best characterised by the number of one million participants who attended last year. The beauty of German scenery in the rich colouring of autumn contributes towards the festive frame of mind in the sense of life's buoyancy and thankfulness for the goods of the soil. Of course the ceremonies are conducted in the presence of the Fuhrer on whose arrival 21 cannons resound and announce the commencement of official proceedings.

As soon as Adolf Hitler ascends the long "Strasse des Fuhrers," flanked by hundreds of thousands to the summit, a jubilant greeting sets in which is only interrupted when he holds his traditional address. The importance of the hour is underlined by the presence of the diplomatic corps after having arrived from Berlin by special express. With evolutions of the defensive force in various formations and spread over the wide open fields in full view, the Buckeburg harvest festivities' dramatic zenith has been reached. In the homage rendered to plough and sword new Germany sees the two means to assure its undisturbed national well-being.—Transocean News Service.

MAJOR OFFENSIVE

Shanghai, Sept. 24: A major Japanese offensive in the Shanghai area is presaged with the feverish landing of Japanese reinforcements. According to Chinese reports, 40,000 Japanese troops have been landed during the past week. This tactic was admitted by a Japanese spokesman and when questioned his only reply was, "more will come." The Chinese believe that the vicinity of Kiangwan will shortly be the scene of the biggest battle hitherto and they state that thousands of Japanese troops are concentrating on that area. Meanwhile, according to the Japanese spokesman, the Japanese army is continuing to advance along the Lotien-Luhang area despite the wet weather but admitted that the progress was very slow because of a series of Chinese trenches and unfavourable weather conditions.—Reuter.

JAPANESE CAPTURE RAILWAY STATION

Peking, Sept. 24: After an all night siege a division of Chinese troops were still holding Paotingtu this morning but at 9.45 Japanese troops fording a moat stormed a section of the wall breached by artillery and occupied a corner of the city. Locked in desperate hand-to-hand fighting the attackers and defenders swayed back and forth and scattered battlements before the Japanese consolidated their foothold. From then on they began to fight their way inward in the face of continuous resistance. Paotingtu was completely encircled by five Japanese units while other troops are pushing on the south after capturing a railway station outside the wall.—Reuter.

FIRST BOXING CARNIVAL

Four Title Bouts On Card

New York, Sept. 24.

In the Polo Ground here to-day, Mike Jacobs staged his first carnival of champions in which four world title bouts were decided, all of them being 15-rounders.

Fred Apostoli is the new middleweight champion, having knocked-out Marcel Thill, technically, in the tenth round. In the welterweight division Barney Ross beat Ceferino Garcia on points, and Lou Ambers beat Pedro Montanez, lightweights, also on points. Harry Jeffra (bantam weight) beat Sixto Escobar, the holder, on points.

Apostoli will now have to meet Freddie Stegle to decide who is the undisputed middleweight champion. Two of the most interested spectators among the 32,600 present were Joe Louis, the heavyweight champion and Tommy Farr, who were introduced from the ring and who shook hands before resuming their seats. Jacobs stated that the carnival will be an annual event.

Thill was well ahead in points up till the ninth round when he cut his eye, the referee stopping the fight after 44 seconds in the tenth round.

ITALIAN CONSULATE STRUCK

Canton Air Raid

Canton, Sept. 24.

It now transpires that four bombs were dropped early this morning in the eastern district of Canton, but damage is unknown.

A large piece of shrapnel landed on the Italian Consulate, in Tung-shan district, close to a Chinese battery position. Commander Giuseppe Ros, the Consul-General, and the Vice-Consul, Signor Mario Rocchi, are carrying on their work as usual, but in the event of aerial attacks they will take shelter in dug-outs at their residence nearby.

Nine Italian women and four children are due here to-day from Nanchang, and most are related to Italian airmen serving there.

CHINESE PLANE FORCED DOWN IN CANTON RAID

Canton, Sept. 24. A Chinese plane manned by Airman Huang Kwang-ching which was surrounded by a fleet of Japanese bombers over Bocca Tigris Forts yesterday morning, was forced down on Honam Island, it was disclosed to-day.

The Chinese flier pursued the fleeing Japanese planes shortly after the air raid over Canton and found himself outnumbered when the Japanese turned round and gave chase.

Huang, who has been brought back to a local hospital, received slight injuries on the head, arms and legs but his condition is not serious. The plane, it is stated, was only slightly damaged.

General Wu Te-chen, Chairman of the Kwangtung Provincial Government, personally called at the hospital last night to inquire after Huang's condition.

CANTON HAS ANOTHER AIR VISITOR

Canton, Sept. 24.

A Japanese plane, or Japanese planes again visited Canton early this morning at about 4.00 a.m. but only the dull thud of one bomb was heard and this was well to the east of the city.

Shortly after, the drone of an engine was heard overhead, and a single light was sighted, making its way through the sky. It may have been a single machine or the leader of three in formation.

After an hour-and-a-half of uncertainty, the "all clear" was sounded at 5.30 a.m. Complete silence reigned in the city throughout the visitation and it came as a surprise when the "all clear" signal came, to hear the murmur of hundreds of voices burst forth in relief from the Shakes Bund, opposite Shameen, where it appears many Chinese had taken refuge, sitting calmly on the steps of the buildings. Their self-control was splendid.—Reuter.

CHINESE STORY DENIED

Canton, Sept. 24.

The Chinese Press quotes a military source as denying the recent Chinese story that two Italian aviators were aboard the Japanese plane which crashed a few days ago and which was confirmed by the Italian Consulate to Reuter.

It is understood, however, that the pilots were foreigners of unknown nationality, but official clarification is not obtainable.—Reuter.

100 CASUALTIES IN CANTON AIR RAIDS

Canton, Sept. 24: According to an official report released to-day, more than 100 Chinese civilians were killed and wounded during the Japanese air raids over Canton yesterday.—Central News.

JAPANESE BOMB NORTH KWANGTUNG COAST

Swatow, Sept. 24: Three Japanese planes flew over Chiatsekwang harbour on the northern Kwangtung coast late on Wednesday afternoon, and dropped a number of bombs, according to reports received here to-day. The extent of the damage is unknown.

Earlier in the afternoon the same planes scouted over Holfung and Lukfung, two important north Kwangtung cities, but flew away without dropping any bombs.—Central News.

DISTINCT ADVANCE

In General European Appeasement

London, Sept. 23

Assurances that Italy would send no more "volunteers" to Spain, similar to those which, it is understood, were given to Monsieur Delbos at Geneva by Signor Bovas Coppa were, it is learned, confirmed in Rome yesterday by the Italian Foreign Minister to the British Charge d'Affaires.

The British Government have been kept informed of the conversations between the Italian Permanent Delegate at Geneva and the French Foreign Minister and in London these exchanges and the prospects they hold out of the Franco-Italian discussions, which might lead to wider agreements on Spain, are naturally welcomed.

POTENTIAL IMPORTANCE

The Nyon Arrangement in which, it is hoped, the Italian collaboration will now be forthcoming, has made an important contribution towards restoring the situation at sea resulting from Spanish conflict, and it should be possible as a result to take up again the question, on the importance of which the British Government have never ceased to lay stress, namely the withdrawal of foreigners engaged on either side in the Civil War in Spain.

If friendly discussions between the French and Italian Governments can make easier progress on this question, the view in well-informed circles in London is that way would be opened up for distinct advance in general European appeasement.

At the same time there is no disposition to underestimate difficulties still to be overcome. But difficulties become less formidable when tackled with goodwill and it is in that connexion that London sees the potential importance of developments of the last few days.—British Wireless.
